Verse 1:

B A E E
Did you hear about the midnight rambler?
B A E E
Everybody got to go
B A E E
Did you hear about the midnight rambler
B A E E
The one that shut the kitchen door?
A E B B
He don't give a hoot of a warning,
A E B B
A-wrapped up in a black cat coat
A E B B
He don't go in the light in the morning
A E B
He's split the time the cock'rel crows 234

B A E E
Talking about the midnight gambler,
B A E E
The one you've never seen before
B A E E
A-talking about the midnight gambler
B A E E
Did you see him jump the garden wall?
A E B B
A-sighing down the wind so sadly
A E B B
A-listen and you hear him moan
A E B B

Well I'm talking about the midnight gambler

A E B
Everybody got to go 234

Verse 4:

B A E E
Well you heard about the Boston. Strangler..

B A E E
It's not, one those...

B A E E
Well I'm talking about the midnight Rambler..

B A E E
The one who closed the bedroom door?

A E B B
I'm called the hit and run, rape her in anger

A E B B
The knife sharpened tippy toed

A E B B
Or just the shoot him dead brain-belled jangler

A E B B
You know the one you never seen before

A E B B
So if you ever meet the midnight Rambler

A E B B
A-crawling down your marble hall

A E B B
Well he prowling like a proud black panther

A E B B

You can say I, I told you so

Well won't you listen for the midnight rambler

Play it easy as you go

I'm gonna smash down your plate glass windows

Put a fist through your steel plate door

Verse 5:

Did you hear about the midnight rambler?

He'll leave his footprints up and down your hall

A-did you hear about the midnight gambler?

A-did you see me make my midnight call?

And if you ever catch the midnight rambler

I'll steal your mistress from under your nose

Well go easy with your cold fandango

I'll stick my knife right down your throat, baby and it hurts
